KANSAS TEMPERANCE UNION PLANS A VIGOROUS WAR.

J. W. GLEED MADE PRESIDENT.

THREE ORGANIZERS TO BE PUT INTO THE FIELD AT ONCE.

Popular State Rally to Be Held in Topeka About June 1 and Several Other Rallies at Various Places-A Letter to Governor Leedy.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 2.-(Special.) J. Willis Gleed, of Topeka, was elected president of the State Temperance Union to-day, and a plan outlined for vigorous work in behalf of temperance and law enforcement. The other officers elected are as follows:

First vice president, J. H. Lockwood,

J. W. GLEED, The New President of the State Temperance Union

Salina; second vice president, A. W. Denison, Eldorado; secretary, T. E. Stephens, Topeka; treasurer, F. C. Popence, Topeka; dictrict vice presidents-First, Ella W. Brown, Holton; second, L. H. Murlin, Baldwin; third, J. B. Cook, Chetopa; fourth, J. T. Burton, Emporia; fifth, L. R. Elliott; sixth, Mrs. M. E. Hewitt, Scottville; seventh. O. L. Smith, Wellington; executive committee-J. K. Hudson, A. H. Vance, W. A. Peffer, J. B. Larimer, George M. Herrick, Thomas Page, S. T. Howe, Mrs. S. A. Thurston and John W. Briedenthal, all of Topeka; C. A. Place, Winfield; H. L. Pestana, Russell; E. W. Hoch, Marion, R. S. Hicks, Manhattan; L. B. Kellogg and John Madden, Emporia; A. W. Benson, Ottawa; W. H. Carruth and F. H. Snow, Lawrence; H. W. Lewis, Wichita; C. F. Scott, Iola; H. C. Rush, Salina; Horace Hurley, Junction City; G. F. Fullenweider, Eldorado; J. E. Junkin, Sterling; John W. Roberts, Hutchinson; J. W. Parker, Olathe; T. M. Potter, Peabody; C. T. Durborrow, Fort Scott; Annie Diggs, Perry; Rev. Mr. J. G. Dougherty, Kansas City.

Plan of Work for the Year. The committee on plan of work submitted the following report, which was adopted: "First that the State Temperance Union enter into affiliated relations with the National Anti-saloon League. "Second. That the union should undertake immediately a thorough organization, county, township and school district, of the people of the state who favor temperance and the enforcement of the prohibitory law. "Third. That to this end the union put organizers, who shall devote their entire time to the work; on such terms as the executive committee may agree upon, and that the union pledge itself to their sup

"Fourth-That all good citizens should be asked to pledge themselves to vote for no candidate for governor, attorney general, district judge, sheriff, county attorney, or other officers directly concerned with the enforcement of law, whose past record and guarantee that he will do his full duty in the enforcement of the probibitory law. "Fifth-That state and local unions, churches, and other Christian and temper-ance organizations alike, devote themselves, in every advisable way, to the cultivation of public sentiment against intemperance and the liquor interest, and espectally to the encouragement and support of faithful officers.

"Sixth—That a grand popular rally be held in Topeka about the list of June. "Seventh—That several large popular rallies, with representative and general mem-bership, be held as early as possible in the spring or summer, at such available places as the executive committee may designate, for the purpose of bringing together the workers for our cause,

"Eighth-That a mass temperance constate, if possible, before the fall election "Ninth-That the executive committee be directed to confer with the managers of the state Chautauqua assemblies and secure, if possible, the setting apart of an entire day as Kansas Temperance day."

Prohibitory Law Upheld.

The convention adopted resolutions declaring that the prohibitory law was the claring that the prohibitory law was the best method of dealing with the liquor question: that state organizers should be employed to work up temperance sentiment; that temperance and prohibition are still in politics, and all temperance people should see that only temperance officials be elected; that officials who are derellet in their duties should be "spotted" and retired to private life, and that officials who are trying to do their duty should be exceeded. trying to do their duty should be encouraged and assisted.

A strong resolution against resubmission was also adopted. One of the members of the committee wanted to resolve to boycott all business men who render any aid or encouragement to the resubmission movement, but after a discussion led by James A. Troutman and James G. Dougherty, that clause was voted down in the committee. The committee also refused to incerporate a section on the police question.

ernor Leedy. The letter was a copy of a communication sent to Governor Leedy by Ben S. Henderson, representing the Good Citizens' Club, of Kansas City, Kas., which numbers about 500 members. The governor has never seen fit to give it out for publication or reply to it. Therefore, Henderson felt that he was justified in making known its contents. The letter follows:

Mr. Henderson's Letter. "Hon. J. W. Leedy, Topeka, Kas.

"My Dear Governor: Some several months ago I wrote you concerning what I months ago I wrote you concerning what I then believed, and now know, to be facts relating to the disgraceful and stameful conduct of affairs in this city, under the immediate control of your chief of police.
"On the 28th day of December, 1887, I again wrote you requesting you to name a day when you would be in this city, and permit a committee of our temperance organization to meet you and point out some of the evidence of the corrupt, dishonest and disgraceful management of the liquor traffic in this city as manipulated by your chief of police; neither of which letters have you answered, and I have thought it remarkably strange that the governor of the greatest state of this Union would not even acknowledge the receipt of letters directly charging one of his trusted lieutenants with dishonest and disgraceful official conduct.
"However, I am informed by reliable aurectly charang one of his trusted heatenants with dishonest and disgraceful official conduct.

"However, I am informed by reliable authority that the contents of my first letter were by you immediately conveyed to the powers that be' in this city, at a meeting secretiy held by you, your chief of police and other trusted lieutenants, in the rear room of a building on Union avenue near the Union depot in Kansas City, Mo. Such conduct, governor, upon your part, may be all right, but I don't believe it is, it may be that the dignity of the executive of the great and proud state of Kansas has not been seduced by the corrupt and official law-brenkers of this city, nor contaminated by secret meetings held in gilded palaces of Kansas City, Mo. but thousands of good people are of a different opinion. "Open saloons, governor, are as much violation of the law of this state as murder, larceny or any other statutory crime, and, my dear sir, the officer high or low in authority who lends his aid to such violation is, to the state of Kansas, precisely that which the officers of South Carolina were to the United States in the dark and dismal days of 181.

Protection Plainly Charged.

Protection Plainly Charged. "The saloon business under our law is ad-"The saloon business under our law is admitted to be a crime, yet it is nothing when compared to the system of bleeding and holding up the saloonkeepers, inaugurated by officers of this county and city; the latter is a disgrace to the intelligent and manly manhood of the state of Kunsas. Yet these officers are playing this game. Not in the role of Dr. Jekvil and Mr. Hyde, but as a bold heldup in broad daylight, for dollars and cents. Hence I want you to understand, and in order that you may not mistake my language, my dear governor, I charge that for a money consideration paid to these officers, saloons are permitted to run, and when a man refuses to pay, his saloon is either closed by your chief of police, or the county attorney files a petition for injunction in the court of common pleas. These things are not new to you, governor, for I am informed that, on your regular monthly visits to Kansas City, Mo., to meet secretly your trusted hencimen, you universally ask: 'How much have you collected out of the liquor traffic the last month.' You certainly know, governor, that drunkenness is universally condemned in Kansas. And don't you know that the saloons or joints are no longer used in Kansas as a place of rendezvous for respectable politicians? Don't you know that even here in Kansas City, Kas, If a politician desires to go into a joint, he will first look in all directions to see if he has been observed? Don't you know that deven here to the county for the police boasts of the fact that he does not mitted to be a crime, yet it is nothing when observed? Don't you know that your chie of police boasts of the fact that he does no of ponce coasts of the fact that he does not go into a saloon in this city, but when he wants to get full he goes to Kansas City, Mo.? Why, governor, don't you know that the men who are regular visitors to the joints protected by your administration, are looked upon with a large degree of distrust?

Facts Known to the Governor. "Of course, you know all these things-I know you do. And you and your trusted lieutenants, in order to cover up your official and political shame and disgrace, are loudly clamoring:

"First-That prohibition is a failure; "Second-That the license system is the only way to legally control the liquor traf-only way to legally control the liquor traffic.

"Both of these statements I deny.
"First—As proof adverse to your first proposition, permit me to call your attention to the revenue paid by Kansas, a prohibition state, in 1896, amounting to $233,227; and Nebraska, with your well regulated license system, and 250,000 less people, for the same year paid a revenue to the government of $544,173. Now, my dear sir, do not become affected if I use a little very plain talk. But I assert now fearing no successful contradition, that, if Kansas had a governor who thought as much of her people, her homes and her institutions of learning and her boys as you do of the Brewers' Association, of Kansas City, Mo., prohibition would be a grand success. With such a governor W. T. do of the Brewers' Association, of Kansas Clry, Mo., prohibition would be a grand success. With such a governor, W. T. Quaries would not be chief of police of Kansas City, Kas. Neither would he or any one else be permitted, as he does now, to point out or suggest the place or places where our enterprising gambiers can successfully operate their beautiful, interesting, attractive and profitable devices to make money without work. On the contrary, if we had such a governor, policemen would fearlessly and earnestly do their duty. There would be no official contract with crime. There would not be discussed upon our streets and in business houses, the price of any officer's honesty and manhood. There would not be a 'Jointkeepers' Association,' organized by 'outlaws' for the express purpose of defying the law of the state of Kansas and the ordinances of this city. Neither would our police commissioners be afraid to do their duty by removing from the police force an officer when found drunk on duty. There would not be seventy-five open saloons in Kansas City Kas. There would not be seventy-five open sa oons in Kansas City, Kas.

The Law Can Be Enforced. "To further convince you, governor, i tion is not a failure, let me call your attion is not a failure, let me call your attention to a fact as a matter of record in our courts in this county. Some weeks ago the temperance people made it so uncomfortable for the county attorney of this county that he was compelled to cause writs to be issued to abute several saloons which had been, prior thereto, declared to be nuisances, and ordered by the court to be abated as such, these writs were placed in the hands of the sheriff of this county, who, in the discharge of his duty, took possession of all liquors and bar fixtures found in the places described in his writs, and before he had time to destroy the same, as the prohibitory law requires him to do, several representatives of the brewers of Kansas City, Mo., commenced replevin actions against the sheriff in one of our city courts for the possession of these preclous articles of property. And upon the trial of these agents between agents. I mean—were sworn, and upon the witness stand boldy testified that their brewery was the owner of the property in question in each case. Notwithstanding the evidence offered by the sheriff, judgments were rendered in behalf of the brewerles, and the temperance people back of the sheriff, gave bond and appealed these cases to the district court.

"Not long since these cases came on tention to a fact as a matter of record in bond and appealed these cases to the district court.

"Not long since these cases came on for trial in the district court, and without even a shadow of a contest, these Kansas City, Mo., brewers permitted judgments to be rendered in favor of the sheriff—why? Because they knew the judge of that court to be honest. They knew he would do his duty, regardless of the consequences. This is strong proof that the prohibitory liquor law is not a failure, as you charge, when it comes in touch with an officer of the law who possesses a higher regard for his oath, than for a saloonkeeper.

Where License System Reigns. "Second-The license system reigns supreme across the state line in Kansas City Mo. Notwithstanding which, under this

Mo. Notwithstanding which, under this system men engaged in the liquor traffic are prohibited from selling to minors—to drunkards—on Sundays—on election days—on public holidays—and this well regulated license system also requires these gentlemen to close their places of business at a certain hour at night, and not to open before a certain hour in the morning—yet, my dearest governor, the saloonkeepers of Kansas City, Mo. under your beasted license system, after they have converted bright, prosperous, industrious and honest business men and laboring men into common drunkards, they continue to sell them liquor, the law to the contrary notwithstanding.

"They even sell to children. They sell liquor to women and hasten them on in a life of shame. They sell liquor on lection days. They sell liquor on Sundays, in other words, governor, to be plain about it, the saloonkeepers bid defiance to the well regulated license system about which you boast so much.
"As an illustration and proof of this in politics, and all temperance generated in the properance officials who are derelict in circultates should be "sported" and retired private life, and that officials who are derelict in circultates should be "sported" and retired private life, and that officials who are yell it on the properance of the spiral to the results of the committee wanted to resolve to boyst all business men who render any aid responsible to the results of the resultant of the resultant of the resultant of the resultant of the committee wanted to resolve to boyst all business men who render any aid responsible to the well regulated license system about which you boast so much.

"As an illustration and proof of this statement, not long since, the mayor of our office this well regulated license law to the extent at least of closing the saloons on Sunday, that is, he wanted to make a good showing for his city. He was promption.

The convention listened with keen intersion.

The convention listened with keen intersion, and the police question, and the problem of the police question.

The convention listened with keen intersion.

The sum fluing retired to wonder and hasten them on in a light on the wind and all might. They sell liquor an idea and all might. They sell liquor and in the head in his possession a letter written by Ferd Heim, the Kansas City brewer, stating that the whisky and letter written by Ferd Heim, the kansas City brewer stating that the whisky and letter written by Ferd Heim, th well regulated license law? I will tell you just a little, the officers who attempted to trespass upon the saloonkeepers' idea of right were disgracefully clubbed and beaten. The men who assaulted these officers, including the proprietor of the saloon, were limily overcome, arrested, taken before the police judge, who on the following Monday morning assessed a fine of $1,000 upon each; appeals were taken into the criminal court of that city and the tender hearted judge of that court let these men off with a fine of $20 each. This is not all, governor; the Brewers' Association of that city publicly declared that saloonkeepers would not obey the Sunday law. This is the same brewers' association, governor, which enriched the exchequer of our Populist county central committee last fall, and has promised you several thousand dollars for the coming campaign.

"Let us so on and point out a few more several thousand dollars for the coming campalgn.

"Let us go on and point out a few more advantages gained by this system: In Missouri, under her well regulated license system, the sale of liquor is legalized eighteen hours out of every twenty-four. Six days out of every seven, Every saloon by law is recognized as a legal place of resort. Policemen and officers of the law can all lawfully meet in a Missouri saloon under her well regulated license system. So much, governor, for that which you say is best for Kansus. pest for Kansus

Crime in Kansas and Missourl.

"Now, I want to ask a few pertinent questions about Kansas with prohibition firmly ingrafted into her fundamental law. Is it not a fact that we have less crime in Kansas than in Missouri? If you doubt in Kansas than in Missouri? If you doubt this proposition, visit the police and criminal courts of Kansas City, Mo., for one week. Don't you know that in Kansas the prohibitory liquor law is only violated where there are dishonest, corrupt, cowardly or boodling officers in authority? Do you realize, governor, that under Kansas prohibition not one day; no, not one hour, is liquor legally permitted to be sold as a heverage? Don't you know that there is no place in Kansas where liquor is sold as a beverage, and by law, sanctioned as a proper place of resort? Don't you know that under our prohibitory liquor law no officer dare visit one of your joints as a customer? Don't you know that politicians no longer dare visit one of your joints as a customer? Don't you know that politicians no longer meet in Kansas saloons? In other words, governor, under the well regulated license system of which you are so proud, crime, corruption and political dishonesty are upheld with a tinge of legal sanction. Upon the other hand, under Kansas prohibition every sale of liquor, except for medical, scientific or mechanical purposes, is in violation of law. There can not be any legal excuses framed for the sale of liquor as a beverage in Kansas. There can not be a legal compromise or understanding between the saloon man and the politician in Kanthe saloon man and the politician in Kan-sas. That is, I mean to say, the whisky

sas. That is, I mean to say, the whisky business in Kansas under her prohibition law, is stripped of every vestige of honesty, legality and respectability.

"Hence, no man but a whisky man violates the prohibitory liquor law of Kansas, and I here assert that every man, I care not who he is, engaged in the liquor traffic cannot be classed as a law-abiding citizen. They universally refuse to yield to the will of the people as expressed by their representatives in the legislative halls of each of our many commonwealths, on of each of our many commonwealths, on the liquor traffic; hence, you observe that it is the liquor men in Kansas who vio-late the prohibitory liquor law. And it is the men in the same business who defy the laws of those states possessing what you call the well regulated license sys-

Leedy's Broken Promises.

New, governor, this leads me to a con-deration of what you have promised the You have said, by accepting the nomination and election of copting the nomination and election of governor, that you not only believed primarily in the will of the people, but you would so perform the duties of your office to the end that the good of the people would be the immediate result of your official acts. Have you done this? Your official record answers no! You have by your personal influence, as well as the powerful influence of the high office you hold, not only sanctioned the liquor traffic, as hereinbefore charged, but you have, and are, protecting and encouraging the and are, protecting and encouraging the liquor dealers of Missouri, and their lawiess allies in Kansas, in supporting the liquor traffic in this city. By your personal and official influence with and in belief the liquor traffic in the city. half of the liquor traffic, crime has great-iy increased in Kansas City, Kas. Your trusted leutenants and henchmen have it-legally collected a revenue as a premium on lawlessness. Your manipulation of the ity has made official corruption preferable to honorable and manly submission to the to hororable and manly submission to the laws of our state and city.

"You, by your conduct, have rekindled in officers of the law the desire to accept private gain from those engaged in the open violation of the law your oath of office requires you to enforce. Your excuse, governor, and the many excuses offered by your lieutenants, all combined, do not justify the uphoiding of the liquor traffic, so utterly wrong in principle, suicidal in political policy and so disastrous to our love for the constitution of our state, the pride of all true and loyal Kansans.

Advice and Warning.

"Now, governor, a little voluntary ad-ce. You have, by your encouragement vice. You have, by your encouragement of the liquor traffle in this city, constructed that system which now threatens a serious internal war in the People's party, and if not checked soon will result in your political disgrace and death? We Populists, in our party platforms, have in the past, and will in the future, declare in unmeasured terms our disapproval of the action of the Hepublican and Cleveland Democratic parties. We will go further in the near future and say we are unable to find fitting words to fully express our disapproval of the Cleveland, McKinley and hanna construction and use of our national laws; their wanton disregard for the rights and feelings of the masses of our country, the special influence manifested in behalf of, and in encouragement to, the formation of trusts and combines; the reduction of the wages of the laboring people; the failure of these leaders to invoke the power of the federal courts to enjoin these trusts and combinations of capital; the reckless and unlawful expenditure of the people's money; the disastrous effect of the Dingley law; the advocacy of the single gold standard; corrupt methods as practiced by Senator Hanna, and many other national and public wrongs I could name, will be denounced by our party when next we assemble in convention.

"But, dear governor, when the party X of the houer traffic in this city, constructed or party when next we assemble in convention.

"But, dear governor, when the party X cays are turned on your conduct and that of cur hungry gang of city officeholders, we fill find that Kansas Populists can not one stently resolve as above indicated diheut condemning you and your administration. Don't you know that the people f Kansas now realize that you and the crupt gang of officeholders you have athered around you are daily committing times, more disastrous to the homes of the cople of Kansas, honor and manhood of er men, the physical and meral strength her children, than all of the wrongs of a alleged Cleveland, McKinley and Hanna imbination?

Kansas' Good Name Injured.

"If you do not know it, I now take the liberty of telling you that the disgraceful, dishonorable and treacherous co-partnership you and your trusted lieutenants have entered into with the liquor and gambling parisites is more damaging to the good bame of Kansas-more disastrous to our form of government and a more serfous obstruction to the prosperity and social happiness of our people, than all wrongs real or imaginary that you can charge any mational administration, since the suppression of the late rebellion.
"Now, governor, in conclusion let me say to you somewhat confidentially, all the things herein with which you and your administration are charged, are wrong. You know it as well as any man living; and the mency promised you for your next campaign fund will not purchase the equivalent of what you will lose by this damnable copartnership.
"The People's party of Kansas demands If you do not know it, I now take the

of what you will lose by this damnable copartnership.

"The People's party of Kansas demands of you to be consistent; to be faithful to the trust imposed in you. Hence, cease being the tool of that element of this city who seeks personal gain by sacrificing the law of our state, common decency and numbood. Be true to your eath. Be true to the fundamental law of our state, and, above all, be loyal to the People's party.
In the language of Webster Davis at Providence, R. L. not long since. Be no man's man, but truth's and your country's.' Very respectfully yours.

"BEN S. HENDERSON."

"Millions to Wipe Out Prohibition." In a running discussion, J. F. Culver, of Emporia, said he had in his possession a hours to-night were consumed in raising money. It was a hard pull, but enough was raised to pay off every outstanding obligation. The convention closed to-night with brief addresses by Bishop John H. Vincent and ex-Senator W. A. Peffer.

SAYS CURTIS IS DOOMED.

First District Republican Declares There Is a Bailey-Broderick Combination.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 2.-(Special.) "Con gressman Charlie Curtis might as well throw up the sponge right now and quit chasing the Republican nomination for con-gress in the First district," said a prominent Republican from that district to-day "The cards are stacked against him. Bail ey, of Nemaha, will make a struggle for the ey, of Nemaha, will make a struggle for the nomination, and will remain in the race as long as he thinks there is a chance for the nomination. But when the breaking up time comes the Balley and Broderick forces will amalgamate and nominate. Shawnee ecunty has always taken keen delight in going after Cy Leland or his close friends. The Republicans there little dreamed that the time would ever come when Leland and his friends could keep Shawnee county out of a congressman, but it has come just the same, and the popular congressman is doomed."

IS NOT A LEEDY APPOINTEE.

Misrepresentation Employed in an Effort to Check the Coburn

Gubernatorial Boom. Topeka, Kas., Feb. 2.-(Special.) A worse than inaccurate story has been set affoat, evidently by some politician who is becoming alarmed over the growth of the Coburn boom, to the effect that Secretary Coburn should not be nominated, because he is one of Governor Leedy's appointees. he is one of Governor Leedy's appointees. Strange to say, some people believe the story. The fact is that Secretary Coburn is not an appointee of Governor Leedy, nor of any other governor. He holds his position as secretary of agriculture by virtue of election by the Kansas state board of agriculture, a strictly non-partisan organization. There is no politics in his present office.

STANLEY ENTERS THE RACE.

Makes Formal Announcement of His Candidacy for Republican Nom-instion for Governor. Wichita, Kas., Feb. 2.—(Special.) W. E. Stanley, of this city, to-day formally announced that he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. Mr. Stanley has been for the past ten days visiting among his political friends throughvisiting among his political friends through-out the state, consulting them as to the ad-visability of entering the race. He says that from every county in the state he has received letters urging him to run. Among his étanchest supporters are ex-congressman Samuel R. Peters, of Newton, and Mort Albaugh, of Kingman. From now on Mr. Stanley will make a vigorous and aggressive fight.

Bonds for the School Fund. Topeka, Kas., Feb. 2.—(Special.) The state school fund commissioners have purchased $30,000 of Emporia bonds, 75,000 of Olathe bonds and $4,700 of Westmoreland bonds.
